DIRECTORS' REPORT
FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR ENDED 29 DECEMBER 2024

Company Financial Statements
The directors present their report together with the audited Financial Statements of AMO Ireland (the company) for the period ended 29 December 2024. The period of the Annual Report and Financial Statements is 1 January 2024 to 29 December 2024 being 52 weeks. The prior year period is for 2 January 2023 to 31 December 2023.

Principal activities and business review
The principal activities of the company consist of the marketing and selling of medical devices for the eye. The Cataract/Implant business focuses on the four key products required for cataract surgery - foldable intraocular lenses, or IOLs, implantation systems, phacoemulsification systems and viscoelastics. The Laser Vision Correction business markets laser systems, diagnostic devices, treatment cards and microkeratomes for use in laser eye surgery. The Eye Care business provides a full range of contact lens care products for use with most types of contact lenses.

Branch
AMO Ireland is incorporated in the Cayman Islands and is registered as a branch in Ireland. Central management and control of the company is in Ireland.

Results and dividends
The results for the period are disclosed on page 9. The company received no dividend income during the year (2023:Nil) and the company paid no dividend (2023:Nil).

The Company has recorded a loss after tax of USD (27,294,156) (2023: Profit after tax of USD 14,986,524).

Going concern
The Company’s forecasts, cashflow forecasts and projections, taking account of reasonably possible changes in trading performance, show that the company will be able to operate within the level of its current facilities. The Company has considerable financial resources and as a consequence, the directors believe that AMO Ireland will continue in existence for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the company Financial Statements.

Principal risks and Uncertainties
The risks and uncertainties faced by the business are those typical of the business sectors that the Company operates in. The key business risks and uncertainties affecting the company are considered to be a competitive market subject to significant technological change, employee retention and product availability. The company seeks to manage these risks at a company level and through the implementation of policies and strategy at a group level.

The global geopolitical landscape continues to be unpredictable, with ongoing tensions that have the potential to disrupt markets and supply chains. Global trade tensions and tariffs could introduce new cost pressures, particularly on raw materials. These factors may put additional strain on business costs.

Financial risk management

The Company's operations expose it to a variety of financial risks that include the effects of changes in foreign exchange risk, credit risk, liquidity, and interest rate risk. The management of these financial risks is performed with the goal of maintaining an appropriate level of liquidity and financial capacity for the company. Failure to accurately forecast or maintain sufficient liquidity and credit could impact the company’s ability to operate.

The policies are set by the board of directors and are implemented by the Company’s finance department. Specific guidelines to manage interest rate risk, credit risk and circumstances where it would be appropriate to use financial instruments to manage these are set out in a policy and procedures manual.

Foreign exchange risk
Fluctuations in foreign exchange rates can have significant effects on the company's reported results. The Company's financial assets and liabilities give rise to transactional currency exposures. Such exposures arise from the transactions in a currency other than the company's functional currency. The management of such risks is performed by Johnson & Johnson via the Group's treasury department. The main underlying economic currency of the Group's cash flows is the US dollar. The Group's foreign currency exchange management policy is to limit economic and material transactional exposures arising from the currency movements against the US dollar. The company is exposed to foreign exchange risks in the normal course of business.

Credit risk
Credit risk is the risk that a customer will fail to pay amounts due causing financial loss to the Company and arises from credit exposures to customers relating to outstanding receivables. The Company has implemented policies that require appropriate credit checks before balances are advanced.

Liquidity risk
Liquidity risk is the risk that suitable sources of funding for the company's business activities may not be available. The company ensures that it has sufficient funds available for continuing operations. The company policy is to ensure that sufficient resources are available either from cash balances, cash flows and near cash liquid investments to ensure all obligations can be met when they fall due.

Interest rate risk
The Company's objective in relation to interest rate management is to minimize the impact of interest rate volatility on interest costs in order to protect recorded profitability. Cash and intercompany balances are the only interest-bearing assets/liabilities which earn interest at a fixed or variable rate.

Future Developments
The directors do not envisage any significant changes in the activities of the Company for the foreseeable future.

Independent auditors' report to the directors of AMO Ireland

Report on the audit of the financial statements

Opinion

In our opinion, AMO Ireland's financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the company's assets, liabilities and financial position as at 29 December 2024 and of its loss for the 52 week period (the "period") then ended; and
- have been properly prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Practice in Ireland (accounting standards issued by the Financial Reporting Council of the UK, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland").

We have audited the financial statements, included within the Annual Report, which comprise:

- the Statement of Financial Position as at 29 December 2024;
- the Income Statement for the period then ended; and
- the notes to the financial statements, which include a description of the accounting policies.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (Ireland) ("ISAs (Ireland)") and applicable law.

Our responsibilities under ISAs (Ireland) are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We remained independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Ireland, which includes IAASA's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

Conclusions relating to going concern

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from the date on which the financial statements are authorised for issue.

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

However, because not all future events or conditions can be predicted, this conclusion is not a guarantee as to the company's ability to continue as a going concern.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the directors with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Reporting on other information

The other information comprises all of the information in the Annual Report other than the financial statements and our auditors' report thereon. The directors are responsible for the other information. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion or, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in this report, any form of assurance thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify an apparent material inconsistency or material misstatement, we are required to perform procedures to conclude whether there is a material misstatement of the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report based on these responsibilities.

With respect to the Directors' Report, we also considered whether the disclosures required by the Directive 2013/34/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 June 2013 have been included.

Based on the responsibilities described above and our work undertaken in the course of the audit, ISAs (Ireland) and the Directive 2014/56/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 April 2014 require us to also report certain opinions and matters as described below:

- In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit, the information given in the Directors' Report for the period ended 29 December 2024 is consistent with the financial statements and has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.
- Based on our knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified any material misstatements in the Directors' Report.

Responsibilities for the financial statements and the audit

Responsibilities of the directors for the financial statements

As explained more fully in the Directors' Responsibilities Statement set out on page 4, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the applicable framework and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view.

The directors are also responsible for such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (Ireland) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Our audit testing might include testing complete populations of certain transactions and balances, possibly using data auditing techniques. However, it typically involves selecting a limited number of items for testing, rather than testing complete populations. We will often seek to target particular items for testing based on their size or risk characteristics. In other cases, we will use audit sampling to enable us to draw a conclusion about the population from which the sample is selected.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the IAASA website at:

https://www.iaasa.ie/getmedia/b2389013-1cf6-458b-9b8f-a98202dc9c3a/Description of auditors responsibilities for audit.pdf

This description forms part of our auditors' report.

Use of this report

This report, including the opinions, has been prepared for and only for the company's directors as a body in accordance with section 1305 of the Companies Act 2014 and for no other purpose. We do not, in giving these opinions, accept or assume responsibility for any other purpose or to any other person to whom this report is shown or into whose hands it may come save where expressly agreed by our prior consent in writing.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

3. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

3.5 Revenue recognition

Turnover comprises the invoiced value of goods and services exclusive of value added tax after deduction of rebates and allowances. Turnover is only recognised when persuasive evidence of an arrangement with a customer exists, delivery has occurred and/or title and the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer and/or the service has been performed, the price has been fixed or is determinable and collectability is reasonably assured.

The Company records revenue from eye care and cataract/implant product sales when title and risk of ownership have been transferred to the customer, which is typically upon delivery to the customer, with the exception of intraocular lenses distributed on a consignment basis, which is upon notification of implantation in a patient. The company uses judgment when determining whether collection is reasonably assured and relies on a number of factors, including past transaction history with the customer and management evaluations of the credit worthiness of the customer. When the Company determines that collection is not reasonably assured, it defers revenue until such time that collection is reasonably assured.

The Company sells its laser vision correction products to customers under contractual arrangements. Systems sold to direct customers include installation and system revenue from such sales is recognized after the installation has been completed. The Company also utilizes third-party distributors who are responsible for all marketing, sales, installation, training and warranty costs. Accordingly, revenue associated with sales to distributors is recognized when title and risk of loss has been transferred to the distributor in accordance with the terms of the related distribution agreement. The company recognizes revenues from the sale of disposables to all customers upon shipment as it has no continuing obligations or involvement subsequent to shipment.

The Company also offers extended warranty contracts, which are separately sold to non-distributor customers. Revenue is recorded on a straight-line basis over the period of the extended contracts, which is generally one year.

The Company generally permits returns of eye care and cataract/implant products if an item is returned in a timely manner. in good condition, and through the normal channels of distribution. However, the Company does not accept returns of laser vision correction products and does not provide rights of return or exchange, price protection or stock rotation rights to any laser vision correction products. Eye care and cataract/implant product return policies in certain international markets can be more stringent and are based on the terms of contractual agreements with the customers. Allowances for returns are provided for based upon an analysis of the Company's historical patterns of returns. To date, historical product returns have been within the Company's estimates.

When the Company recognizes revenue from the sale of products, certain allowances known and estimable at time of sale are recorded as a reduction to sales. These items include cash discounts, allowances and rebates.

3.6 Interest bearing loans and borrowings

Obligations for loans and borrowings are recognised when the company becomes party to the related contracts and are measured initially at the fair value of consideration received less directly attributable transaction costs.

After initial recognition, interest bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Gains and losses arising on the repurchase, settlement or otherwise cancellation of liabilities are recognised respectively in finance revenue and finance cost.

3.7 Dividends

Equity dividends are recognised when they become legally payable. Interim equity dividends are recognised when paid. Final equity dividends are recognised when approved by the shareholders at an annual general meeting. Dividends on shares are recognized as expense in the profit or loss account.

3.8 Operating leases

At inception the Company assesses agreements that transfer the right to use assets. The assessment considers whether the arrangement is, or contains, a lease based on the substance of the arrangement.

Leases of assets that transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership are classified as finance leases.

Leases that do not transfer all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as operating leases. Payments under operating leases, net of lease incentives received, are charged to the profit and loss account on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

3.9 Currency

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the Financial Statements of the Company are measure using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates ("the functional currency"). The Company Financial Statements are presented in US Dollar, which is the Company's functional and presentation currency and is denoted by symbol "$".

i. Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the spot exchange rates at the dates of transaction.

At each period end foreign currency monetary items are translated using the closing rate. Non-monetary items measured at historical cost are translated using the exchange rate at the date of transaction and non-monetary items measured at fair value are measured using the exchange rate when fair value was determined.

3.10 Employee Benefits

The Company provides a range of benefits to employees, including annual bonus arrangements, paid holiday arrangements and defined benefit pension plans.

Short term benefits

Short term benefits, including holiday pay and other similar non-monetary benefits, are recognised as an expense in the period in which the service is received.

Post-retirement benefits

Johnson & Johnson Ireland group operates a defined benefit scheme which is a multi-employer scheme. The assets and liabilities are held by a group company located in Belgium. There are several participating employers in the Johnson & Johnson Ireland Group Retirement Plan (The Johnson & Johnson Pension Fund OFP - Irish Section) of which AMO Ireland is one. The Johnson & Johnson Pension Fund OFP - Irish Section holds, manages and invests assets for the benefit of members. The pension scheme assets and liabilities relating to the employees of the Company cannot be separately identified on a consistent and reasonable basis. Pension costs are therefore accounted for on a defined contribution basis (as per FRS 102). The cost of providing pensions to employees is therefore charged to the profit and loss account as incurred.

Annual bonus plan

The Company operates an annual bonus plan for employees. An expense is recognised in the profit and loss account when the Company has a legal or constructive obligation to make payments under the plan as a result of past events and a reliable estimate of the obligation can be made.

3.11 Taxation

Taxation expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax recognised in the reporting period. Tax is recognised in the profit and loss account , except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

Current or deferred taxation assets and liabilities are not discounted.

Current tax

Current tax is the amount of income tax payable in respect of the taxable profit for the period or prior periods.. Tax is calculated on the basis of tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by period end.

Directors periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax arises from timing differences that are differences between taxable profits and total comprehensive income as stated in the Company Financial Statements. These timing differences arise from the inclusion of income and expenses in tax assessments in periods different from those in which they are recognised in the Company’s Financial Statements.

Deferred tax is recognised on all timing differences at the reporting date except for certain exceptions. Unrelieved tax losses and other deferred tax assets are only recognised when it is probable that they will be recovered against the reversal of deferred tax liabilities or other future taxable profits.

Deferred tax is measured using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the period end and that are expected to apply lo the reversal of the timing difference.

3.12 Intangible assets

Trademarks which were acquired in the course of the acquisition of certain Allergan assets and liabilities are amortised over a period of 10 years on a straight-line basis.

Purchased goodwill which was acquired in the course of the acquisition of certain of Allergan's and Pfizer's assets and liabilities represents the excess of the acquisition costs over the fair value of the identifiable net assets when they were acquired and is amortised over its estimated economic life, which is deemed to be 5 years.

Intangible assets are carried at cost or valuation less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is calculated using the straight-line method and expensed to Cost of Sales in the profit and loss account.

In December 2017, the Company acquired intangible assets from a group company. The intangible assets were valued by a third party at USD 1,911,458,000. These assets are amortised over the straight-line method over its estimated economic life, which is deemed to be 18 years.

3.13 Tangible assets

Tangible assets are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Except for freehold land, which is not depreciated, depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis using the following rates:

|---|---|
| Building and leasehold | 10% |
| Fixtures & Fittings | 14% |
| Office Equipment | 20% |
| Demonstration equipment | 33% |
| Software and computer equipment | 33% |

3.14 Warranty

The Company offers warranties for its Cataract/Implant and Laser Vision Correction equipment for a standard period of one year. The Company estimates its future warranty cost based on historical warranty claim information. The warranty accrual is reviewed quarterly to verify that it properly reflects the remaining obligation based on the anticipated expenditures over the balance of the obligation period. Adjustments are made when actual warranty claim experience differs from estimates.

3.15 Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on a first in, first out basis and includes transport and handling costs. In the case of manufactured products, cost includes all direct expenditure and production overheads, based on the normal level of activity. Net realisable value comprises estimated selling price less further production costs to completion and appropriate selling and distribution costs. Impairment provision is made, where necessary, for obsolete, slow moving and defective inventory.

3.16 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash at bank and in hand in the statement of financial position comprise cash at bank.

3.17 Interest receivable

Interest income is recognised on interest bearing loans in the income statement in the period to which it relates. Interest is charged on long term loans, at 12 months LIBOR plus 2.5% reset on the anniversary of the loans.

3.18 Finance lease (lessor)

Finance leases transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership to the lessee.

The minimum lease payments are apportioned between the outstanding receivable and finance income, using the effective interest method, to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the receivable.

3.19 Financial Instruments

The Company has chosen to apply the provisions of Sections 11 and 12 of FRS 102 to account for all of its financial instruments.

(i) Financial Assets

Basic financial assets, including trade and other debtors, amounts due from group undertakings, and cash at bank and in hand, are initially recognised at transaction price (including transaction costs), unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction. Where the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction the resulting financial asset is initially measured at the present value of the future receipts discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument. These financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

At the end of each financial period financial assets measured at amortised cost are assessed for objective evidence of impairment. If there is objective evidence that a financial asset measured at amortised cost is impaired an impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss. The impairment loss is the difference between the financial asset's carrying amount and the present value of the financial asset's estimated cash inflows discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate.

Financial assets are derecognised when (a) the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire or are settled, or (b) substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred to another party or (c) control of the financial asset has been transferred to another party who has the practical ability to unilaterally sell the financial asset to an unrelated third party without imposing additional restrictions.

i. Financial Liabilities

Basic financial liabilities, including trade and other creditors and amounts due to group undertakings are initially recognised at transaction price, unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction. Where the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction the resulting financial liability is initially measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument. These financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Trade creditors are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Trade creditors are classified as due within one year if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are presented as falling due after more than one year.

Financial liabilities are derecognised when the liability is extinguished, that is when the contractual obligation is discharged, cancelled or expires.

i. Derivatives

Derivatives, including interest rate swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts, are not basic financial instruments.

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date the derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at their fair value. Changes in the fair value of derivatives are recognised in profit or loss.

ii. Offsetting

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amounts presented in the financial statements when there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

4. Critical accounting estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Impairment of Trade Debtors

The Company trades with a large and varied number of customers on credit terms. Some debts due will not be paid through the default of a small number of customers. The Company uses estimates based on historical experience and current information in determining the level of debts for which an impairment charge is required. The level of impairment required is reviewed on an ongoing basis

Impairment of Inventories

The directors are of the view that an adequate charge has been made to reflect the possibility of stocks being sold at less than cost. However, this estimate is subject to inherent uncertainty.

Useful Lives of Tangible Assets

Assets comprising primarily of buildings and leasehold and demo equipment represent a significant portion of total assets. The annual deprecation charge depends primarily on the estimated lives of each type of asset and, in certain circumstances, estimates of residual values. Directors regularly review these useful lives and change them if necessary to reflect current conditions. In determining these useful lives directors consider technological change, patterns of consumption, physical condition and expected economic utilisation of the assets. Changes in the useful lives can have a significant impact on the depreciation and amortisation charge for the financial period.

Useful Lives and Impairment of Intangible Fixed Assets

Assets comprising primarily of Customer Relationships and Trademarks represent a significant portion of total assets. The annual amortisation charge depends primarily on the estimated lives of each type of asset. Directors regularly review these useful lives and update them if necessary to reflect current conditions. In determining these useful lives directors consider technological change, patterns of consumption and expected economic utilisation of the assets. Changes in the useful lives can have a significant impact on the amortization charge for the financial period. Intangible Assets are assessed for impairment each period through consideration of standard impairment indicators. Should an impairment indicator be identified, directors consider the value in use of the Intangible Assets through consideration of future expected cash flows generated through use of these Intangible Assets.

i. Deferred Tax

Deferred tax assets and liabilities require directors judgement in determining the amounts to be recognised. In particular, judgement is used when assessing the extent to which deferred tax assets should be recognised with consideration given to the timing and level of future taxable income. The carrying value of the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities are disclosed in note 15.

5. Turnover
